

To Open Wabash River Bridges Saturday

THE WABASH RIVER MEMORIAL BRIDGE, spanning the Big Wabash river midway between New Haven, Ill., and Mt. Vernon, Ind., will be dedicated Saturday. This picture taken from the sandy river bottoms, shows the huge concrete supports and other under structure of the bridge, with the overhead steel work visible in the background.

ACROSS THE LITTLE WABASH RIVER, near New Haven, another modern bridge has been constructed and will also be opened to traffic Saturday.

SOON TO BE TORN AWAY is the old bridge across the Little Wabash at New Haven. This bridge, opened to traffic in 1895, was the pride and joy of the people of that time, but is giving way to a more modern structure. (All pictures by Daily Register Staff Photographer)

Governors Stratton, Craig to Dedicate Wabash Bridge Saturday

Governor William G. Stratton of Illinois and Governor George N. Craig of Indiana will head the list of dignitaries who will participate in the dedication of the Wabash River Memorial Bridge Saturday.

The bridge, constructed by the Indiana Toll Bridge Commission at a cost of $7,000,000, crosses the Big Wabash river midway between New Haven, Ill., and Mt. Vernon, Ind.

A companion bridge has been constructed across the Little Wabash river at New Haven and it also will be opened to traffic Saturday in appropriate ceremonies.

Festivities are scheduled to get underway about 9:30 a. m. when a parade will form in New Haven to take part in the program. Floats from New Haven and surrounding communities will gather in the Illinois village and then proceed to Mt. Vernon to join other parade units for the big celebration.

Following the big parade, which will include six bands and musical groups, 40 or more elaborate floats, military units, plus automobiles carrying the two governors and other high officials, a formal dedication ceremony is scheduled to be held at the Mt. Vernon court house.

The ribbon cutting ceremony will feature Phillip Jones, 9-year-old son of Senator Glen Jones and Margery Ellen Craig, daughter of Indiana Governor Craig.

The dedication ceremonies are listed for 3 p. m. Following the program in Mt. Vernon the dignitaries will travel to the Memorial bridge for a short ceremony, then proceed to New Haven for a ceremony at the Little Wabash river bridge, then return to Mt. Vernon and go on to Evansville where a banquet is to be held at the McCurdy hotel, concluding the day-long list of activities.

Stratton Asks Investigation of Hodge's Office

Requests State Budgetary Group To Make Full Study

SPRINGFIELD — A second investigation of the office of State Auditor Orville E. Hodge was in the works today at the request of Gov. William G. Stratton.

The governor issued a statement on the Fourth of July in which he said he was requesting the State Budgetary Commission to "make a full study and investigation" of Hodge's office.

The Sangamon County State's attorney's office has been investigating Hodge's office for the last three weeks.

Hodge and Stratton are both Republicans seeking re-election in November.

Hodge has come under fire in a Chicago newspaper for alleged payroll irregularities, the depleted condition of some of his office accounts failure to file a statement of the financial conditions of his office and use of state money for his private airplanes.

Stratton's statement was his first official notice of the charges against Hodge.

Stratton said the Budgetary Commission, of which he is a member, was charged with the duty of studying all state expenditures and income, was bipartisan and "is the proper body" to make the investigation of Hodge's office.

He said he was asking the commission to "report its findings, with recommendations for improvement of operations and procedures, at the earliest date possible."

Hodge has denied his office accounts are depleted and has said "overall we are financially in good condition."

He said the dismissal of a number of his friends and Democratic politicians from his payroll was mostly "normal turnover." The newspaper charged the employees were dismissed after a reporter demanded a look at the payroll.

High Winds Hit Williamson County Airport

MARION, Ill. — A high wind smashed into a hangar filled with airplanes at Williamson County Airport late Wednesday and caused damage estimated at $75,000.

Fred Valentin, who is the owner of the hangar and the Valentin Air Service, said his two airplanes were demolished and six others were damaged. Another plane in the hangar and one staked down outside were not damaged.

Valentin said the wind reached a velocity of 90 miles an hour. It tore off the hangar roof and collapsed most of the west wall of the hangar.

Valentin said he was not certain how much of the damage would be covered by insurance.

The brief but violent wind and rain storm also blew down trees and power and telephone lines in Marion and Carterville.

Repair crews began working Wednesday night to restore service and were still on the job today. Carterville suffered the worst damage and loss of service. Power and telephone lines were only partially repaired by midmorning.

Some local telephone service was still out of order in Marion today but toll service was almost back to normal.

Drought-Breaking Rainfall Here

Harrisburg and the south part of the county got a drought-breaking rain yesterday afternoon but up around Raleigh, Galatia and Eldorado the precipitation was either negligible or nil, reports today said.

At the Pankey Branch pumping station just east of the city, yesterday's rainfall measured .27 inch but Harrison Kibler said he believed the fall inside Harrisburg was heavier than that at the station, so spotty was the rainfall. Rain that started falling this morning appeared to be more general.

Girl Pinned in Wreck Nine Days Fights for Life

SALT LAKE CITY — A pretty 18-year old girl who lay semi-conscious for nine days without food or water in the concealed wreckage of an automobile today began a slow recovery from her ordeal.

Doctors said only her "remarkable constitution" and several other factors enabled Jean Margetts to survive the auto wreck that killed her fiancé. She still was in a semi-coma today but doctors said they believed she would recover.

The 110-pound Sunnyvale, Calif., girl was found Tuesday night beneath the fender of a wrecked car only 300 feet from busy U. S. Highway 40. The car could not be seen from the highway because of dense scrub oak at the bottom of the canyon where the auto lay.

Only five yards from the girl was the body of James B. Hixon, 22, of Salt Lake City. The couple had planned to marry in September and the search which finally found them got off to a slow start because it first was thought they had eloped.

Doctors planned to x-ray the girl today because of indications she had received a frontal skull fracture. But she suffered no internal injuries or broken bones, they said and her circulation appeared to be good.

The accident apparently happened the night of June 24 when the young couple was returning from a fishing trip. Jean's family had lived in Utah until moving to California two years ago and the girl returned here three weeks ago to attend a church festival and prepare for her wedding in the fall at the Latter-Day Saints Church Temple in Salt Lake City.

Nation's Holiday Toll Shows 138 Traffic Dead; Overall Total of 255

CHICAGO — The nation today tallied its traffic dead from one of the most disastrous mid-week holidays or record despite an all-out highway enforcement effort.

A United Press count of the period from 6 p. m. Tuesday to midnight Wednesday showed that 138 persons were killed in traffic. Drownings killed 78 persons, plane crashes 4, miscellaneous accidents 34 and fireworks 1, for an overall total of 255.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, said July 4 traffic accidents took more lives than the Grand Canyon airliner collision, which killed 128.

"We can only hope that the nation is half as excited and horrified over this catastrophe as it was over the single, more dramatic air accident—and that there is equal determination to see that such a needless holiday toll can never happen again," Dearborn said.

Texas led all other states with 15 traffic deaths for the worst holiday record, Michigan was second with 10, South Carolina reported 9, and Georgia and Illinois had 8 each.

States reporting no traffic deaths included Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Indiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia and Wyoming.

ILLINOIS DEATHS BELOW FORECAST

Poor holiday weather and an all-out safety drive helped keep the Illinois Fourth of July traffic toll well below forecasts.

A United Press survey showed there were eight highway deaths in the state during the one-day holiday.

This compared with the Chicago Motor Club's prediction of 15 deaths, and a death toll for the one-day Memorial Day holiday of 16.

In addition, 4 persons drowned, 1 died in a plane crash and 4 died in miscellaneous Illinois holiday mishaps, for a totals of 17 accidental deaths.

Council Opposes Amending Ordinance Banning Oil Drilling

Council members Tuesday frowned upon a proposal of E. E. Goad, oil operator from Decatur, to amend a city ordinance banning oil operations in the city so that he and his associates could drill in the Gaskins City area.

Mr. Goad, who drilled the Frank P. Parker well between Route 45 and Gaskins City in an unincorporated area, presented a petition to the council asking that the ordinance, passed about a year ago by the present council, be amended to permit drilling in the incorporated area of Gaskins City and in the north 20 acres of a 40-acre tract owned by Mr. Parker. The north 20 is in the city limits.

Mr. Goad said that he and his associates held leases for drilling in the described area.

No vote was taken on the matter, but the four commissioners each expressed ideas against amending the ordinance.

Mr. Goad next asked the question, "Then will you give me permission to drill?" There was no decision made on this.

The council passed two ordinances Tuesday. One was the annual appropriation ordinance, the other a franchise to the Bell Telephone Co. to permit their properties to run through the city.

The annual appropriation ordinance, for the year commencing May 1, 1956, is printed in its entirety in today's Daily Register.

Charles Dunn of the State Department of Labor appeared before the council in regard to the issue of a new wage contract between the city and the Operating Engineers union members employed in the city water and sewer departments.

He said the question of getting action started on a contract had lagged for several months and urged that the matter be speeded up. The water board Monday night voted increases in pay retroactive to January 1 but the council tabled the minutes to study this and other actions of the board.

Raymond Pickford, a leader in the move to get city water in Buena Vista, said he needed help from the city to negotiate with the New York Central railroad for about a half mile of right-of-way needed to rent the right-of-way to the users, he said, adding he needed the city's help. City Attorney George B. Lee was appointed to negotiate with the railroad.

Child Taken From Patio of Parent's Home

Money Left in Package at Place Designated in Note

WESTBURY, N. Y. — The kidnaper of 1-month-old Peter Weinberger had failed to pick up $2,000 in ransom money 2 1/2 hours after it was placed by a large tree in accordance with his demand, police announced today.

The child was taken from his carriage on the patio of his wealthy family's $40,000 home shortly after 3 p. m. Wednesday. His mother, Mrs. Morris Weinberger, found a ransom note in the buggy when she returned after a brief trip indoors to plan dinner with the maid.

"We have made no progress at all," Nassau County Chief of Detectives Stuyvesant Pinnell told newsmen at 12:30 p. m. today. "We have made no contact with the kidnaper. The ransom money was left in a package at a place according to the instructions in the ransom note. It has not been picked up."

Newsmen had seen a man believed to be the distraught father place a manila envelope beside a large tree next to a garage a half block from the Weinberger home at 10 a. m. He then ran back to the house.

Pinnell said police had "only vague leads" so far as to the identity of the kidnaper. He said it was believed the kidnaper "must have made some plan, because the baby was on the patio at the usual hour. It seems likely the kidnaper knew the custom of the mother to put the baby there. She put the baby there at 3 o'clock and he was discovered missing at 2:20."

"Scared Stiff," Note Says
The kidnaper, he said, apparently was an "educated person." The ransom note dropped into the empty baby carriage was grammatical and written in an educated hand, he said.

The child was dressed in a yellow and white flowered kimono and a peaked yellow cap trimmed with blue, Pinnell said. He said a pink blanket was also missing from the carriage.

The ransom note described the kidnaper as "scared stiff" and said the writer was "asking only for what I need." The note threatened that the baby would be killed if police were notified.

The child's father is a salesman for a wholesale drug firm. He and the couple's older child, Lewis, 3, were in the house, celebrating a rainy Fourth of July when the baby was taken from the covered patio.

Scene of the kidnapping was less than three miles from East Meadow, where Stephen Damman, 3, was abducted last Oct. 31 from outside a supermarket while his mother shopped. Stephen has never been found.

Eddie Flannell Suffers Eye Injury

Eddie Flannell, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Flannell of Ledford, was taken to Barnes hospital following an accident Tuesday in which he suffered a serious eye injury.

An air gun pellet went into the outer side of his eye and on through the rear of the eyeball, merging near the bridge of the nose.

A boy who was visiting relatives from Chicago, who did not know the air gun was loaded, discharged it, the pellet striking young Flannell.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them likewise. Luke 6:31.

Free Pony Rides!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Move To Cut Nixon Off Ticket; Campaign For Ex-Gov. Dan Thornton For VP; Air Force Refuses To Win One Vote By Furnishing Private Plane.

WASHINGTON. — Vice President Nixon likes to travel and has done a fine job of representing the U. S. A. abroad. However, he was most loath to go to Manila and Saigon as the personal representative of President Eisenhower. He just didn't want to leave home.

In fact, Nixon delayed so long that it became positively embarrassing to the Philippine embassy, which had invited him but couldn't get an answer. Finally Secretary Dulles had to get into the act and do some personal prodding. Only then did Nixon agree to go.

Obviously in Nixon's mind was a premonition that his enemies might conspire to euvre him off the Republican ticket while he was 8,000 miles away from Washington. That is exactly what is happening today.

The biggest political news in the capital is the undercover drive to get Nixon off the ticket.

Behind it are several anti-Nixonites. Also behind it is the blunt, never-spoken-aloud belief that when the American people go to the polls in November they will be voting not alone for Eisenhower, but for the No. 2 man they expect will end up in the White House.

Initial leaders of the anti-Nixon move were such potent GOP governors as Nixon's fellow Californian J. Goodwin Knight, William Stratton of Illinois, and Fred Hall of Kansas. All are liberal Republicans with labor support. It was no accident that they left Nixon's name off the petition they signed in Atlantic City urging Ike to run again.

THORNTON FOR VP

Other eager-beaver backstage workers against Nixon are friends of ex-Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado. They are led by Clarence Tuttle, former Baltimore steel manufacturer, who contributed $8,000 to Senator McCarthy in his campaign against Senator Tydings in Maryland.

Tuttle is now digging up the dough for an intensive drive to put Thornton on the ticket in place of Nixon. Working with him is Mark Cramer of Continental Air Lines, former assistant to Governor Thornton.

Inside the White House it has been admitted that if Ike did not run again he would urge his close friend, Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, to run instead. Humphrey has repeatedly argued that he is too old.

Now that increasing attention is focused on the No. 2 spot, the talk is turning to Humphrey for vice president.

Others for whom backstage VP boomlets are being floated are:

1. Harold Stassen, now a member of the Eisenhower team, whose former student Stassen Club members have now grown up and become potent citizens-for-Eisenhower.

2. Fred Seaton, new secretary of the interior. Press reaction to his appointment was so favorable that Ike-ites now talk about him for the vice presidency.

3. Gov. Goodwin Knight of California, who has chalked up a fine record as governor and has potent labor support.

4. Ex-Gov. Tom Dewey, one of the most skilled men in public life, who, however, is bitterly disliked by the Taft wing of the GOP.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

The White House has been bombarded with mail accusing the politicians of sacrificing Ike's health to keep themselves in power. . . . Ex-Speaker Joe Martin has urged the White House to sponsor a tax cut before the Democrats beat them to it. Ike's economic adviser, Dr. Arthur Burns, favors a small tax cut. . . . Carl McCordie, the public-relations assistant secretary of state for John Foster Dulles, who rivals Charlie Wilson in putting his foot in his mouth, is on the way out. Jim Hagerty, who knows his publicity onions, decided McCordie had got his foot tangled with his molars too often. . . . McCordie is the man who leaked the Yalta papers to the New York Times. . . . Sen. Lyndon Johnson has promised labor or leaders he would keep the South in line at the Democratic convention. He guarantees the South will support whoever gets the nomination. . . . Val Peterson, ex-governor of Nebraska, now Civil Defense Administrator, has told his former gubernatorial colleagues that he's worried over his home state going Democratic. He says Nebraska farmers are up in arms against the GOP. . . . Robert McLeish was fired as farm-ers home administrator partly because he wrote private letters on government time. Several of the letters went to Jack Porter, the GOP boss of Texas.

HTHS Class '43 Holds Round-Up

Following a theme of the "Old West," the Harrisburg Township high school class of 1943 held its fourth annual reunion Saturday, June 30, at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russler.

The Round-up of 43ers included an afternoon of swimming and reminiscing followed by a barbeque and business meeting at which time plans were made for the homecoming in 1957.

Notes from classmates unable to attend were read by the group and addresses were exchanged among the classmates meeting for the first time in 14 years.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. James Yates, Columbia, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Vinyard, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Christner, Lavonia, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gufahl (Roberta Webb), Peoria, Mr. and Mrs. Val Oshel, Owensboro, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gidcomb (Jean Moore), Paducah, Ky., Gene Kaid, RMI, USN, Hopkinsville, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Glendean Reiner, Evansville, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Amos Strobel, Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Alvey, Eldorado, Mrs. Don Jones (Hilda Stankunas), Peru, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Davis, Bob Land, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Oglesby (Pearl Lippitt), all of Harrisburg, and the committee: Mr. and Mrs. John Molinaro Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sutton (Lenora Upchurch), Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pickford (Juanita King), and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker (Barbara Edwards).

AIR FORCE ON SPOT

Sen. Matt Neely of West Virginia has served in Congress or as governor of his state longer than any other man in Washington, though not consecutively. During that long span, he has missed few important votes.

But the much-loved 81-year-old Neely underwent a minor operation a few weeks ago and was in West Virginia resting as the Senate was about to vote on the extra billion dollars for the Air Force.

Fearing the vote might be tight, fast-moving Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas asked the Air Force to send a plane to Fairmont, W. Va., to fly Neely back to Washington. This put the Air Force right on the spot. They wanted that extra billion dollars. They also knew that Neely's vote might spell the difference between getting it or not getting it.

But they also knew that their boss, Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, didn't want the billion, had called it a "phony." Discreetly the Air Force declined to send the plane.

Quickly, Senate Leader Johnson chartered a private plane. Then he re-counted Senate noses, figured he wouldn't need Neely's vote after all. Neely was paired for the billion, didn't have to rush back to Washington.

Note — Joe McCarthy and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, bitter GOP teammates, joined the Democrats in voting for the extra Air Force billion.

SIU Trustees

Approve Family

Unit Rent Increases

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Rent increases for family housing units at Southern Illinois University have been approved by the SIU Board of Trustees, effective Sept. 1.

Monthly rental charges for Chautauqua Street housing will be hiked $2.50, with new monthly rentals ranging from $42.50 for two-bedroom student apartments to $62.50 for three-bedroom faculty houses.

At the Southern Acres campus, monthly rent for student apartments will be $2.75 higher and faculty apartment rent will be hiked $12.75.

Rising operation costs was the reason given for the increases. The board of trustees also authorized a series of increases in student activity fees earmarked for the proposed new Student Union. The student body approved the measure by a 4 to 1 vote last May 15.

Assessments of $1 will be added to each student's quarterly activity fees beginning with the winter quarter of 1956-57. Additional increases of $1 per quarter will go into effect at the beginning of the fall quarter in each of the new two years, bringing to a total of $5 the amount of each fee payment designated for the Student Union Fund.

Retail Dealers

Must File

Tire Inventory

Retail dealers in tires of the type of highway vehicles must make a record of their new tire inventory as of the close of business on June 30, in order to comply with the newly enacted Highway Revenue Act of 1956. A dealer, for purposes of the new floor stocks tax, includes a wholesaler, jobber, distributor or retailer.

Such inventory is necessary in order that dealers will have available information from which to prepare a floor stocks tax return which must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue in whose district the taxpayer's principal place of business is located. Tires should be inventoried according to trade name, grade and number of plies. The floor stocks tax does not apply to used tires as such.

H. G. White, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Springfield District, today urged that all dealers take immediate action to make a record of their inventory, pending the release of further information about the Highway Revenue Act of 1956. Mr. White states that the forms on which to report the tax will be available in his office at Springfield and in all Internal Revenue suboffices in the Springfield District about the latter part of July.

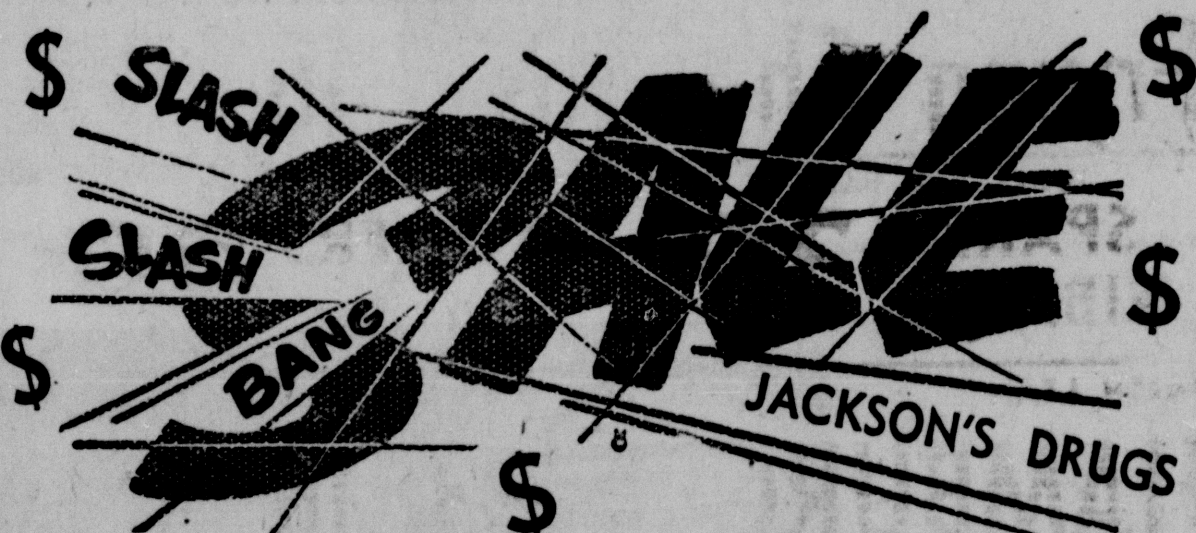

It will be incumbent upon all persons or firms liable for the tax to secure the necessary tax blanks, inasmuch as the Internal Revenue Service has no means for mailing the tax blanks to those liable for tax.

Abney and Bond schools, due to a lack of facilities, curriculum, and a decline in school enrollment and faced with a problem of improving their educational program, decided to consolidate with Harco Grade school.

It's All a Matter of A Man's Values

BELMONT, Mass. — (AP) — Leo M. Connell is a Boston bank security officer who:

Has no automobile.

Has no TV.

Has no washing-machine.

But he does own a magnificent Rosa Bonheur painting of horses which in the late 19th century took top honors at the Paris Salon and which has been valued at $12,000.

"It's all according to a man's values," he said. "I would rather work to buy a painting than a TV."

Connell pointed out that even the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, with paintings valued at more than $50,000,000, doesn't own any of Rosa Bonheur's works.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

Ever since Jesus told the fishermen on the Sea of Galilee to drop their nets on the opposite side of their boats there has been a desire for divine blessing of the fleets which sail the waters of the world.

This year several fleets of fishing boats and pleasure craft have received their annual blessing. This religious service is not a commercial matter. It is a spiritual dedication of those who sail and of their boats to the protection of Almighty God.

For many years the Portuguese observed the ritual with little notice from other people. This year in many parts of the United States Catholic Priests, Protestant Clergymen and Jewish Rabbis joined in praying for the fleets which passed before them to receive God's blessing.

In addition to the prayers for protection and for God's care, there were also the memorials for those who lost their lives in the waters of the world. The sea is so mighty that many fear her fierceness. Others stand in awe of her strength. All of us respect her power.

We all knew that man cannot match the strength of the sea, the beating of the waves and the rising of the tides. We can do no more than pray that God will be with those who travel o'er the surface of the waters of the earth.

Those who do not sail ought also to dedicate their lives to God's care and protection as do those who man these craft.

Mary M. Steagall

Student Loan Fund

Established at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A Mary M. Steagall Memorial Student Loan fund has been started at Southern Illinois University by contributions from former students, according to Dr. Willard M. Gersbacher, SIU zoology professor.

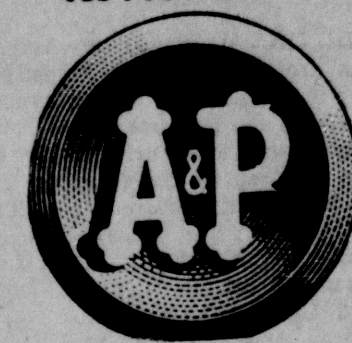

Dr. Steagall, who retired in 1938 after 30 years of teaching at SIU, died at her home in Carbondale March 27, 1945. Joining the SIU faculty as a supervising critic teacher in 1908, she became head of the biology department in 1915 and moved to chairmanship of the zoology department in 1929. Of the more than 300 students majoring or minoring in zoology under her teaching, nearly a third have entered the medical profession. Her vigor as a teacher, as a leader on field trips and in other activities amazed and won the respect of her students, Gersbacher says.

Additional contributions to the memorial loan fund still are coming in and may be continued through Gersbacher. Intended primarily for SIU students in zoological sciences needing financial assistance, the fund also is available to other students. Loans will be made through the University's Scholarships and Loans Committee.

U. S. is Ahead In Air Power, Twining Reports

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — Gen. Nathan F. Twining said today after conferring with President Eisenhower that the United States is "out in front" of Russia in air power.

"There's no question about it," said Twining, who returned Wednesday from an eight-day visit to Moscow.

But the Air Force chief of staff told a news conference that "I can tell you we have got to keep working."

The Russians have a "very competent, well-equipped Air Force," he said.

The United States could fall behind "if we go to sleep."

There "is no question that those people are on the move," Twining reported.

Twining met with reporters after giving Mr. Eisenhower a 90-minute report on his first-hand look at Soviet air power. He gave the President a full account of the growing challenge of Russian air strength as he observed it in Moscow.

Tall Drifter

XXV

Every moment since Frank Ude told him about Cash's bunch sent an urge dragging through Chantry to ride to Yates' homestead. And still an unusual curiosity held him in Cashtown.

From his position beside the Alhambra he had seen Hyman enter the Corbin House. Later George La Tour and Jubal Sims entered the hotel. A few minutes later Frank drew in his gelding, watching the Alhambra. It was too dark for Chantry to see the raised rifle. But he saw Lily step to Frank's side. His brows arched when Frank lifted her to his stirrups.

He pondered more gravely after Lily re-entered the hotel. In turn Swenson strode rapidly out, picked up La Tour's satchel and crossed the street.

Why had Jubal Sims remained inside the Corbin House? What would draw a dull, roughly clad boy like Jubal into the hotel? And then like white light suspicion bloomed into certainty in Chantry's mind. Jonathan Yates had been brought to the hotel, to Lily's room.

It came to him Norring probably had a man in the lobby, and there was enough traffic through Lily's room to arouse suspicion. A brittle smile drew Chantry's mouth unevenly. He longed to check out his discoveries, yet inside him a more compelling urge was building stronger every moment. He meant to pay Emmett Cash an overdue visit.

By the time Frank arrived at a fork in the trail he had already made his mind up. Here he reined the black to the left trail. A board crudely shaped like an arrow carried the burned brand of Circle N and was pointed this way. Behind, Frank could hear the steady, far-off beat of a rider following.

In a quarter mile the trail rose sharply in crossing a ragged spur. The summit of this rise was crowned by a thick stand of pines. Into these Frank knelt his black.

The sounds of the hard driven horse were much nearer. He was uncertain of what the black gelding might do and so closed his hand about the wet nostrils. His free hand dropped to loosen the gun in his belt. Then in another moment he took a deeper breath, calling clearly: "Swenson! It's Ude—hold up!"

He freed the black's nostrils, kicking him into action. Swede stared at him as he rode athwart the trail. "This is one time," Swede growled in slow admission, "I might have been knocked from saddle. Glad it was you."

He supposed Swede was keeping an eye on him and he asked flatly, "How'd you figure I was headed this way?"

"The dust at the fork," Swenson said quietly but Frank knew he had been coming too fast to be guided solely by dust. He had known which trail Frank selected before he arrived at the fork. Then Swede struck his bay with heels and set him forward. He shook his head. "I guess you didn't miss what Norring admitted in Doc's yard, either," he said placidly. "Hyman told me what Norring said. I made him go over it a couple times. If Norring sent Hackett to Circle N I guess there's something in the wind for tonight."

They rode along soberly until Frank said, "Hackett might be figuring a raid."

"He might," Swede agreed. "I got to admit I wasn't altogether fair about you, Ude. You're a hard case, and I ain't changed my mind about that. But you're on the level with Jean Cash."

A dark hedge of timber skirted them on their right. Frank decided the other side of this would be Rafter C. Not far beyond were meadows, and cattle were crashing through the brush. He threw out a hand to halt Swede. Now he could hear the running of horses, much closer.

Turning off the trail, Frank plunged the black between rows of timber. They rode into the smell of gun smoke. Horses were running around a bend to the right. That way would lead eventually to Rafter C. Once Frank's gelding veered sharply. A man's piercing scream struck the night. A bullet had found its mark.

Directly in front Frank made out two men bent-over and racing toward their horses. At the sound of them crashing through the woods the men wheeled, lifting their handguns. The roar of a .44 beside Frank sent them plunging on. One man threw himself wildly beneath a rail fence. Again Frank caught the crash of Swenson's gun. Red flames of exploding gasses poured from Swede's pistol muzzle. Then their horses had taken the rail fence in full stride, coming down in a clear meadow.

A man loomed suddenly in front of Frank's black. He let out a throaty yell: half anger, half fear. "Ude!"

A blast of muzzle flame leaped at Frank virtually within arm's reach. He heard the whistling whine of the lead ball and was conscious at the same time of his black striking Milo Hackett's head with its shoulder. Hackett never made a further sound. He went down and lay sprawled on the ground. Swenson's bay leaped over him.

This was the last they saw of the Circle N fight and the last they heard of firing.

Frank knew as they plunged on in the wake of the string that they had burst head-on into Emmett's raid. He realized, and he knew Swenson realized, they had inadvertently aided Cash in recovering the horses.

More Housing Available for SIU Male Students

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois University is offering male students a brighter housing picture this fall, reports I. Clark Davis, dean of men and acting director of student affairs.

With two modern residence halls on Thompson Lake Point scheduled for completion by September, SIU will be able to accommodate over 900 men in housing units on the campus.

This includes rooms for 240 students at Thompson Point, 280 at Southern Acres, 200 in the Dowdell area, 90 at Anthony Hall, and about 100 in other housing.

A few vacancies still are available in the new men's residence hall, Davis said. These rooms will rent for $60 per quarter until spring, when meals will be provided for a total spring quarter cost of $204.

In addition, two more Thompson Point units will be opened early next year, offering accommodations for an additional 240 male students.

As for women students, Davis advises them to obtain their off-campus rooms for the fall quarter as soon as possible.

Woody Hall, Southern's only on-campus women's residence hall, built to house 422 students, already is committed to accept 436, and the waiting list is long.

Davis said room rentals in the Carbondale area this fall will be about the same as last year, with the average student who shares a room paying from $4 to $5.50 per week.

Demand continues heavy for apartments for married students, not only in Carbondale but in nearby Carverville, Marion, Herrin and Murphysboro, Davis added. One Carbondale builder reported that all 12 apartments of a two-story structure he is erecting were rented as soon as the foundation was laid.

Be inconsistent in folding tablecloths, sheets, other linens. Creasing in one place over a long period of time will weaken the fabric. Roll your good linen tablecloths on broom handles. Creases should never be ironed into linens.

Ancient Remains of Indian Woman Excavated at Modoc Rock Shelter

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — The ancient remains of an Indian woman — perhaps the oldest human skeleton discovered in the United States — have been excavated by the Illinois State Museum archaeological field party working in southern Illinois.

Melvin L. Fowler, director of the field party, said that the skeleton was unearthed last week deep in the ground near an overhanging bluff at the Hiller extension of the Modoc Rock Shelter where the 1956 expedition is digging.

According to the depth at which it was found, he said, the burial apparently took place about 3,600 B. C., or about 5,600 years ago. No associated artifacts have yet been found with the skeleton.

Dr. Thorne Deuel, director of the museum in Springfield, said that exhaustive tests and correlation must be carried out before an exact date for the skeleton can be determined.

No Indian skeleton definitely dated earlier than 3,000 B. C. has been found in the United States.

Fowler said the remains found in the Hiller extension were "exceptionally well preserved. The body was tightly flexed and must have been broken before interment as I don't believe a body could possibly be bent into such a position without breakage," Fowler said in a report to Dr. Deuel.

Modoc Rock Shelter, a chain of overhanging bluffs which overlook the Mississippi valley between Prairie Du Rocher and Modoc in Randolph county, has been the object of archaeological investigation by the museum since 1952. The Hiller extension is a new section never before worked, Dr. Deuel said.

Previous work at the site of the original excavations at Modoc earlier in 1953 have shown evidence of human life existing in Illinois 10,000 years ago, and perhaps longer. The rock shelter is the oldest dated Indian site east of the Rocky mountains.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Dan Doolin, who passed away four years ago July 5.
Somewhere back of the sunset
Where loveliness never dies
He lives in the land of glory
Mid the blue and gold of the sky
Gone from us who loved him
Into the heaven of rest
To the home of our loving Savior
His life is a beautiful memory
His absence is silent grief
He is sleeping in God's garden
In the sunset of perfect peace
Sadly missed by wife, Mrs. Alice Doolin, children, and grandchildren.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Maggie Lockyer, who died July 5, 1955.
The pearls were open
A gentle voice said come
And with farewells unspoken
She gently entered home
Sadly missed by children and grandchildren.

210,470 Attend
July 4th Games

By United Press
Attendance at major-league baseball games on the Fourth of July holiday fell slightly short of last year's holiday turnout, despite a sizeable increase in the crowds at National League games. A total of 210,470 fans paid admissions to the big league games on this holiday, compared with 211,220 a year ago. The National League jumped from 103,316 last year to 116,463, but the American League dropped from 107,078 to 94,007.

The NL boost was traceable to a renewal of the Giant-Dodger feud at the Polo Grounds, where the day's top throng of 44,859 was on hand. Last year these two old rivals met different foes.
The AL's drop could be traced mostly to the turnout at the Red Sox-Yankees' games—43,794 in New York last year but only 34,594 in Boston this year.

Ashburn Fouls Off
13 Pitches in Long
Duel with Pitcher

PITTSBURGH — For a while, it looked as if Richie Ashburn would be at bat all day.
As the first batter in the second game of Wednesday's double-header against the Pirates, the Phillies' outfielder dueling with Pirate pitcher George Munger for nearly 10 minutes. He fouled off 13 pitches, including 10 when the count was 3-and-2. Four of them whistled into the Phillies' dugout, scattering Ashburn's teammates. Finally he grounded out.

Jackson's Win
Kiwanis Games

By David Nelson
Donnie Beggs twirled a four hit as Pickford's won their seventh straight game, defeating Dairy Brand, 19-8; the Cubs downed the Reds, 15-6; and Jackson's beat Gibbons, 18-8, in Kiwanis league games.

Beggs and Wasson with three hits each, including a home run by Wasson, led Pickford's at bat, and Strickland also blasted a round tripper. Penrod, Ramsey and Sheldon combined on the hill for the losers, giving up 19 runs on 13 safeties, eight errors and eight bases on balls.
The Reds scored five runs on three hits in the first inning, but scored only once more and were held hitless for the rest of the game by Stiles, Cubs' pitcher, as the Cubs downed the Reds, 15-6. Beal, with a homer and single, and Stiles and Bets, with two singles apiece, led the winners' ninth-inning attack, and Vinyard, Hansen and McSparrin had the only hits for the losers. Bowan was the losing pitcher.
Hegglin tossed a four-hitter as Jackson's beat Gibbons, 18-8. Craver and C. Wollesen were the big guns for the winners at bat with four base hits each to lead their team's 14-hit barrage. Elliott, Harrod, Walters and Shelton all hit safely for the losers. Fleming was the losing pitcher. This victory put Jackson's Drugs in a tie with Pankey's Bakery for second place in the Kitty league race, with three wins and four losses each.

Yankees, Braves Hold First,
But Oncoming Dodgers and Indians Playing Top Ball

By United Press
If the old Fourth of July tradition holds up, the Yankees will meet the Braves in the world series this fall, but don't try to sell that old chestnut to the onrushing Dodgers and Indians.
The two clubs in first place on the morning of July 5, so the legend goes, are destined to face each other in the world series. That would be the Yankees, who lead the American league by 3 1/2 games today, and the Braves, atop the National league by only five percentage points.
Cleveland and Brooklyn, however, are playing the best ball in their respective leagues. As a matter of fact, they were the only clubs to sweep doubleheaders Wednesday, the Indians knocking over the Tigers twice, 6-4 and 3-1, and the Dodgers taking a pair from the Giants, 15-2 and 6-1.

Tribe on Warpath
The Indians, with a five-game winning streak, have won 14 of their last 16 games and now are only 4 1/2 games out of first place. The Dodgers have copped eight of their last 11 games and are only a half-game removed from the lead.
Al Smith's two-run triple in the ninth inning of the opener provided young Herb Score with his margin of victory in Cleveland's opening victory although Score needed relief from Cal McLish when the Tigers rallied for three runs in the last of the ninth. Smith also drove in a pair of runs in the nightcap as Early Wynn hurled a four-hitter for his ninth victory. The two defeats stretched Detroit's home losing streak to 14 games.

The Yankees split with the Red Sox, losing the opener, 7-6, when Jim Piersall singled home the winning run off Tom Sturdivant in the 11th inning and winning the nightcap, 9-4, with a 14-hit barrage that included homers by winning pitcher Don Larsen and Bill Skowron. Ted Williams and Billy Martin each homered in the first game, credited to reliever Leo Kiely.
Mantle Misses Nightcap
Mickey Mantle pulled a ligament in his right knee while making a throw to the plate in the first game of the campaign in the nightcap. Southpaw Billy Pierce racked up his eighth straight victory and his 13th of the season when he pitched the White Sox to a 5-2 triumph over the Athletics in the first game but Kansas City capitalized on two errors.

Teen-Age All-Stars
Defeat Coal
Belt Team, 7-3

The Teen-Age All-Stars of Harrisburg defeated the local Coal Belt team, 7-3, in a game played Wednesday evening on the VFW park diamond.
Jerry King gave up one run on two hits in the first inning and then settled down and pitched no-hit ball the rest of the game, striking out eight while walking six. Hatcher and Dowdy combined on the mound for the Coal Belt team, allowing seven runs on four base hits, three errors and four bases on balls, while striking out 13.
Aldridge had the best hit of the game, a long double into left field, and Stone, Vick and Denny also hit safely for the winners. Cummins and Alexander picked up the losers' only safe blows. The entire All-Stars' infield, Pickford, Stone, Biggs and Maynard, made some brilliant defensive plays.

FUN FOR FANS
New York—(NEA)—The New York Yankees hit 40 home runs over a 25-game stretch in 1941.

Giant Hurlers Pounded

The Dodgers pounded five Giant pitchers for 18 hits, including homers by Roy Campanella and Duke Snider, in winning the opener. Don Newcombe picked up his 10th victory although he gave way to Ed Roebuck in the ninth. Lanky, 19-year old Don Drysdale was the winner in the nightcap although he, too, needed relief in the ninth. The Dodgers, however, clinched the game in the first inning when they knocked out Jim Hearn with a three-run burst.
St. Louis shelled Gene Conley from the mound with a five-run rally in the seventh inning to defeat Milwaukee, 6-4, in the opener but Bobby Buhl's three-hit pitching gave the Braves the second game, 6-1. Ken Boyer hit his 20th homer in the first game, which Murry Dickson won, while Hank Aaron slammed his ninth homer for the Braves in the finale.

Looking at Sports
BY BILL MELTON

Harrisburg's night baseball program is in full swing. There is a game played under the lights at the new ball park across from the county fairgrounds almost every night each week.
The playing field is in good shape, the grandstands, dugouts and concession stand are uptop and the lighting is WONDERFUL. It is a set up for under-the-lights baseball that Harrisburg can be proud to have.
Early sponsors of the program—Huck Gee, Bob Karnes, Hughie Walker and others—were busy last summer and continued their efforts through the fall and winter seasons. By this spring their dream was something real.
In talking with some of the men recently it was learned that all bills connected with the ball park construction have been paid.
In mentioning the many who had helped, both by donating labor, materials and money, the REA employees were given special mention.
Darrell Piper supervised and engineered all pole setting and electrical work, with the help of REA and telephone company linemen. These men dismantled the lighting system at Mt. Vernon and reassembled it at the Harrisburg park. Total labor donated in this particular part of the project has been estimated at $5,000.
Tony Thompson planned the bleachers and carpenters, brick layers and hod carriers donated many hours of skilled labor. The back stop and fence were welded through the donated labor of welders in Harrisburg.
Several business firms gave building materials and many, many persons donated money to keep the project going. Donations ranged from $500, $450, $200, right on down to several donations of $1 each.
The new baseball field is truly a community project.
However, as mentioned earlier, there is a need for additional funds and anyone wishing to contribute to this worthwhile community project is asked to see any of the following—Huck Gee, Bob Karnes, Ron

Kluszewski Blasts Three

Ted Kluszewski hit three home runs—one in the opener and two in the nightcap—but second-place Cincinnati could only manage a split against Chicago. The Cubs won the opener, 5-4, with the help of homers by Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn, while Brooks Lawrence reeled off his 11th consecutive victory without a defeat in pitching the Redlegs to a 4-3 triumph in the nightcap. Jim King drove in all of Chicago's runs in the second game with a pair of homers while rookie Frank Robinson hit his 18th homer for Cincinnati. Kluszewski's three homers gave him a total of 20.

Left-handed Harvey Haddix scattered eight hits as the Phillies beat the Pirates, 4-2, in the first of two games, but Pittsburgh won the nightcap, 9-4. Elmer Valo hit a pair of homers for the Phils in the opener and Marv Blaylock hit one. In the nightcap, Blaylock, playing first base, made two errors on the same play to help the Pirates score six runs in the first inning. Reliever Roy Face was the winner. Del Ennis homered for Philadelphia.

Legion Whacks Evansville CIO Streaks, 16-4

After gifting the Evansville CIO Streaks with a pair of runs in the first inning the Harrisburg Legion nine lashed out with six hits and eight runs of their own in the last of the first to make a runaway of a game played at the VFW Memorial park July 4th. The final tally read 16 to 4 as the Legion connected for 19 base blows for their largest hit total of the season.

Ron Ziegler paced the local swatsmen with four safeties in six tries. Ray Siskiy had three for five while Frank Logsdon, Harold Guley, Merle Dailey, Bob Roper and Don Wallace all came through with two safe blows. Don Stout and Bob Dallas picked up the other two hits between them. Extra base blows included a home run and double by Guley; triples by Dailey and Roper and a double by Siskiy.

Don Wallace started for the Legion but gave way to Bob Roper in the fifth who finished. Logsdon and Ziegler shared the catching job. Turpin was the losers' starter with Garrett coming on in the sixth to finish out. Garrett and Harris were the losers' receivers.

Legion players are reminded of a practice session at 5 p. m. Saturday at the town park diamond. For Sunday's game with McLeansboro, the locals are asked to be at the town park diamond Sunday by noon ready to leave for McLeansboro.

Brownell Criticized for Announcing Suit Against GM On Television Program

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., who has not held a news conference in his office since last October, announced a major government anti-trust action against General Motors Wednesday night on a commercially sponsored television program.

Brownell disclosed that the government is preparing to file suit against GM, charging it with monopolizing the manufacture of buses.

The attorney general denied, under questioning by newsmen, that the action has any political significance. He said the suit was not meant to be an election-year answer to Democratic charges that the Eisenhower administration is pro-big business.

He also said that no advance notice of the suit was given to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, a former GM president.

Martha Rountree Moderator

Brownell announced the action against General Motors at the premiere of the NBC television program, "Press Conference," a news panel show originated and moderated by Martha Rountree. The program is sponsored by Corn Products Refining Co.

Under rules of the program, the person being interviewed must break a worthwhile news story on the show. Brownell's news break was his announcement of the GM suit.

Brownell was asked after the program why he held the announcement for a commercial television program. He was told that Editor & Publisher, newspaper industry magazine, had criticized any such action by a government official.

Brownell replied that the government is obligated to use all media of communications—press, radio, TV and others—in giving out news.

Interviewing Photographers Paid
Editor & Publisher had said that the new television program raised "the definite possibility that the head of a government bureau or department will hold up the release of important official news to get a TV spot. Government news therefore will be presented originally to the American people under the sponsorship of an advertiser."

Poland Rejects Offer of Food

BERLIN — A widespread purge of "unreliable" Communist Party members was reported gaining momentum in Red Poland today.

Western travelers said the purge apparently is spurred by Red fears of new Poznan-type "food and freedom" riots.

Radio Warsaw announced Poland's rejection of the United States offer to send free food for hungry workers and denounced the move as "propaganda."

"There is no hunger in Poland," Warsaw said.

But Western travelers arriving in Berlin today said, "Food is very short, not only in Poznan but throughout the country."

"Workers in Poland are in great need," one reported. "They literally are hungry. Their uprising in Poznan began with a demand for bread."

MOSCOW — The Soviet government and Communist Party today accused U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of responsibility for the "bloody" Poznan riots in Poland.

The government organ Izvestia said the Poznan uprising followed "inflammatory" speeches by Dulles and the appropriation of 12 1/2 million dollars by the U. S. Congress for "subversion" of the Iron Curtain countries.

Observers noted the markedly strong tone of the two articles. They said it now remains to be

George Rogers Clark Neglected by Nation's Historians, Jones Tells Kiwanis

George Rogers Clark, who with pitifully few men, undertook the conquest of a territory half the size of Europe, probably contributed more to this country than any other man, Sen. Glen Jones stated in an Independence Day address to members of the Kiwanis club at the Masonic temple Tuesday evening.

"He is a man who has been neglected by the history of this country," Sen. Jones stated.

He described how George Rogers Clark, with only 180 men, first took Fort Massac, then Fort Kaskaskia, and Vincennes, and destroyed the British power in the Mississippi and Ohio Valley territories.

In spite of all his accomplishments for his country, the "Big Knight," as he was called, died a pauper, Sen. Jones said.

"He is our own hero in southern Illinois as he started his campaign at Fort Massac," Sen. Jones said.
